

Michael R. Howland, CAE

President and CEO of Noble of Indiana, Michael Howland brings extensive leadership in government, association management and philanthropy. In his capacity as CEO, he is responsible for overseeing Noble's multi-faceted programs serving people with disabilities in Central Indiana. He also works with Noble's Board of Directors to fulfill Noble's vision for the future.

Professional Experience

- Chief Executive Officer, Christian Service Charities, Medical Research Agencies of America, Human Service Charities of America, and Neighbor to Nation, Springfield, Virginia
- President and CEO, Independent Charities of America, San Francisco, California
- District Director/Acting Regional Administrator, U.S. Small Business Administration, San Francisco, California
- Director of Governmental Assistance, American Bakers Association, Washington, D.C.
- Director, State and Local Affairs Branch, Office of the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Washington, D.C.
- Presidential Management Intern, Washington, D.C.

Community Leadership and Affiliations

- President, Jacksonville University Alumni Board of Governors.
- Jacksonville University Board of Trustees
- Charles A. Tindley Accelerated High School (Indianapolis) Board of Directors.
- Member, District of Columbia and American Bar Associations.
- Carmel Dads Club Coach

Previous Professional/Community Leadership

- Chairman, American Society of Association Executives Key Philanthropic Organizations Committee.
- Christian Service Charities Board of Directors.
- Chair, American Society of Association Executives Philanthropic Task Force.
- Chairman, National Combined Federal Campaign Committee.
- Coach, Northern Virginia Girls Soccer, under-8.
- Coach, Piedmont, California Little League
- Member, Bay Area Health Task Force.
- Board of Directors, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.
- Co-chair, with wife Cathy, San Francisco Giants 65 Roses Club (benefiting Cystic Fibrosis Foundation).
- United Way of the Bay Area Cabinet.
- Director, Downtown Jaycees of Washington, D.C.

- Chair, Dollars for Needy Children Campaign, Washington, D.C.

Awards

- Medical Research Agencies of America, "Man Behind the Success" Award.
- California Senate Special Resolution.
- National Association of Government Guaranteed Lenders Award for Outstanding Leadership.
- San Francisco Bay Area Federal Executive Board Special Award for Leadership and Service.
- Mayor of Oakland's Meritorious Award.
- Outstanding Young Men in America.
- Arthur S. Flemming Award for Outstanding Federal Service.

Education

Jacksonville University, Bachelor of Arts Degree (Political Science and Urban Affairs) in 1976.
St. Louis University, Juris Doctor and Master of Arts-Public Administration Degrees in 1980.
Federal Executive Institute 1991.

Personal History

Born July 7, 1954.
Married to Catherine Nangle Howland
Three children, Jim (Indiana University), Christopher and Madeline.

Noble of Indiana

Noble is a family-centered organization dedicated to meeting the needs of individuals with disabilities. For fifty years, Noble has remained committed to the mission of its founders: to inspire the community to recognize, embrace and include the contributions of individuals with disabilities.

